Consider this basic thought process: If resistance to change is a normal and natural reaction, then resistance should be expected. If resistance is expected, then our planning activities should be designed to mitigate that resistance. We can manage resistance early and at its source. In many cases, we can prevent resistance or greatly reduce it.

Change of basis. We apply the same change of basis, so that $q = p$ and the change of basis formula becomes $t^2 = p t^1 p^{-1}$. In this situation the invertible matrix p is called a change-of-basis matrix for the vector space V , and the equation above says that the matrices t^1 and t^2 are similar. The matrix of a bilinear form

It is caused mostly by increasing concentrations of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere. Global warming is causing climate patterns to change. However, global warming itself represents only one aspect of climate change. Climate change refers to any significant change in the measures of climate lasting for an extended period of time. In other words, climate change includes major changes in temperature, precipitation, or wind patterns, among other effects, that occur over several decades or longer.
