Turning COVID-19 Protein into Nanoparticles Might Cause Stronger Immune Response Naturally Occurring Antibodies Nabs Vol 750
This volume illustrates the functional properties of Nabs. Authors from pioneering groups report in their chapters on the tissue homeostatic, tissue regenerating and regulatory properties of Nabs and Nabs in pooled human IgG. Scientists interested in the regulation and modulation of components of the immune system found a whole variety of Nabs to cytokines with regulatory and protective functions and Nabs that modulate, e.g., dendritic cells, regulatory T cells, B cells and granulocytes.

In the late 70s and early 80s he isolated and described the first IgG naturally occurring antibodies (Nabs) to red blood cell membrane proteins (to spectrin and to band 3 protein) and presented evidence for their role in tissue homeostasis.

The anticipated broader and variable specificity of neutrophil-reactive antibodies in pooled immunoglobulins has prompted us to consider them as a subgroup of naturally occurring antibodies (Nabs). Nabs are produced by B-1 cells prior to and independent of external antigenic stimulation.

Naturally Occurring Antibodies by Hans U. Lutz

Antibodies with germline or close to germline configuration exist in vertebrates, and these so-called 'naturally occurring auto-antibodies' (NAb) are directed to self and altered self components. Such Nabs have been attracting increasing interest because several of them, including some in their recombinant forms, have therapeutic potential.
