The poem compares an elderly woman's experiences during the coronavirus pandemic to those during previous points in her life, such as the "sex and drugs and rock 'n roll" of the 1960s. Ayres, known for works such as " With These Hands " and " Up In The Attic , " did not write the poem, however. This poem seems to be everywhere attributed to me but it isn't mine, it's by Jan Beaumont. <https://t.co/dhTajKPOct>.

About Lockdown – by Pam Ayres. I'm normally a social girl I love to meet my mates But lately with the virus here We can't go out the gates. You see, we are the 'oldies' now We need to stay inside If they haven't seen us for a while They'll think we've upped and died. They'll never know the things we did Before we got this old There wasn't any Facebook So not everything was told.
