According to Christian doctrine, what happens to those who have died? While traditionally it has been said that one group of people spends eternity in heavenly happiness while another group experiences conscious, unending torment in hell, there are other Christians who believe in alternatives that hell is simply a separation from God, that the lost are simply annihilated and not subject to torment, or that actually, in the end, all will be reconciled to God and live in heavenly glory. The Gift of God Is Eternal Life explores a five-century journey that traces the development and dispersal of the doctrines of universalism and conditional immortality in a compelling narrative collection of short stories. Beginning from when these doctrines were merely whispered about or published anonymously to the days when traveling evangelists preached them in the new and growing American republic, these engaging vignettes show how this once intense debate between Christians has evolved into modern times where such ideas can be freely discussed even in mainstream television and evangelism. Do infants who die prior to an age of accountability receive salvation, and are those who have never heard the Christian message simply doomed? What about loved ones who die without having embraced the Christian gospel or those who believe in less-traditional Christian dogmas and institutions? The Gift of God Is Eternal Life can help both believers and nonbelievers understand the implications of these theological perspectives not just in an afterlife, but in their own lives here and now.

A novel about the tough and tender sides of growing up in a small country town.

The Book of Reception takes the reader on a journey, through the development of the creation plans for the establishment of mankind on the earth. This development process is a sort of treasure hunt, in which G-d has sown into fabric of time, signs, which have been hidden from the sight of man. These signs are veiled, and as the veils are lifted, the wonders of the creation emerge. As they are revealed we get a glimpse into the way G-d found them, while stumbling through dark caverns of the semi-conscious mind. Piece by piece the numerological wonderments emerge, getting brighter with each new discovery, unto that perfect day when mankind and G-d are one. G-d has not settled with merely one creation plan, for in the discoveries G-d found the interweaving of two plans, both with a complimenting nature, that when used together personify balance and symmetry, representing the embodiment of the universe. This duality, a presentation in double measure, offers representations of this life and the life to come, through the establishment of heaven on earth. It takes mankind from the state of child to the pure state of
